Prison Buildings are Destroyed by Flames at Salem

FOUR IN GROUP ARE PREY TO FIRE WHICH STARTS IN FLAX PLANT.

SALEM, Ore., May 19.—Fire at the Oregon penitentiary yesterday destroyed four large brick buildings in a group of six, menaced the main prison structure and caused a loss estimated at $25,000. There was no insurance. The origin of the fire is not known.

The fire was discovered at 4:45 p. m. by convicts, when flames were seen issuing from the rear part of the building used for drying flax and adjoining the boiler room. Fanned by a high wind from the northwest, the fire spread rapidly and in less than 10 minutes it had been communicated to four buildings.

The flax drying plant contained about 20 tons of retted flax, valued at $25 a ton. The prison steam plant and the shoe shop were gutted by fire, the roof was burned off of the machinery shop and the machinery badly damaged by water.

Heroic work of the prisoners, assisted by the Salem fire department and a score of asylum patients undoubtedly prevented the destruction of the entire flax plant. Water to fight the flames was obtained from the prison and from the auxiliary plant of the state hospital.

Many of the convicts endangered their lives by plunging into the burning buildings to aid in fighting the flames and several sustained painful cuts and bruises from falling timbers and broken glass.

With the discovery of the fire, the night force of guards just coming on duty were rushed to the east wall, doubling the number on guard, but no attempt to escape was made.

After the fire had been extinguished it was discovered that a number of knives were missing from the prison shoe shop, but upon investigation no convict was found to have them in his possession.

That the fire was caused from a smut explosion in the flax drying room is the theory of Superintendent Minto, who said that this was a danger which it had been necessary to guard against throughout the handling of the crop. A few months ago some oil soaked rags were found by prison employees hidden in a pile of flax straw and at the time it was suggested that some prisoner had attempted by this means to destroy the flax crop.

The annual production of sulphur in the United States has increased from a few more than 3000 tons to more than 220,000 tons in the last dozen years.

Mice Are War Refugees.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Four mice, whose ancestors had been inoculated with tumor germs for 15 years, took up their residence in the Crocker cancer research laboratory at Columbia University.

In the last German air raid over London a bomb was dropped near the laboratory where the mice were being kept and it was decided to send them to the United States for fear that another bomb might destroy the work of years.

Is Lost River Found?

ORLEANS, Ind., May 19.—Drillers engaged in sinking wells for the new water works system struck a powerful stream of water at a depth of 20 feet.

It is believed the men drilled into a branch of the historic Lost River or an underground cavern. The roar of the water can be plainly heard for some distance, and despite the fact it is only 100 feet from another well which is 113 feet deep and through solid rock for more than 90 feet, the water appears to be of the same quality and flavor as in the deep well. The phenomena is creating much excitement.

Wet Restaurants Doomed.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Mayor Thompson has asserted that he would neither sign nor veto the 1 o'clock closing ordinance for "wet" restaurants, but would allow it to become a law.

Upon his arrival in the city he found awaiting him an invitation to attend a cowboy's reunion in Las Vegas, N. M., July 6, which has been designated as Thompson day in his honor. He telegraphed his acceptance.

Isn't it wonderful what a difference just a little "Gets-It" makes—on corns and calluses? It's always right somewhere in the world, with many folks humped up, with cork-screwed faces, gouging, picking, drilling out their corns, making packages of their toes with plasters, bandages, tape and contraptions—and the "holier" in their corns goes on forever! Don't you do it. Use "Gets-It." It's marvelous, simple, never fails. Apply it in 2 seconds. Nothing to stick to the stocking, hurt or irritate the toe. Pain stops. Corn comes "clean off," quick. It's one of the gems of the world. Try it—your kick—from joy. For corns, calluses, warts, bunions. "Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Pendleton and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Pendleton Drug Co., F. J. Connelley and Tallman & Co.

What the Picture Theaters Have to Tell You.

BERTHA KALICH, NOTED JEWISH ACTRESS AT PASTIME.

Miss Bertha Kalich, the famous Jewish actress, the famous her sensational rise in the world of art without help other than her own remarkable ability is to be seen at the Pastime today for the last time.

Miss Kalich has a winning personality, a sweet face and her wardrobe is exceptionally beautiful. A few years ago Miss Kalich was an obscure actress on the east side of New York and by her pluck and endurance has lifted herself until now she has the honor of being the only rival of the famous Sarah Bernhardt. The concluding chapter of "The Goddess" featuring Earle Williams and Anita Stewart will be shown, as also will a Charlie Chaplin cartoon entitled "Charlie, the Animal Trainer."

Fritzie Brunette in "Unto Those Who Sin," Featured at Pastime Sunday.

Miss Fritzie Brunette makes her initial debut as a star in Selig Red Seal Plays, released through V-L-S-E, in "Unto Those Who Sin," written in five sensational acts by James Oliver Curwood. "Unto Those Who Sin" will be shown at the Pastime Sunday and those who have seen private presentations of this drama pronounce it as good as "Thou Shalt Not Covet," the Selig Red Seal Play which caused Filmland to sit up and take notice.

Supporting Miss Brunette in "Unto Those Who Sin" are such Selig artists as Al W. Filson, Lillian Hayward, Edward J. Felt and others. Miss Brunette wears an extraordinary number of beautiful gowns which she ordered especially for this production.

At the Temple.

Charles Cherry, one of the best known leading men on the American English stage, will make his stellar appearance on the screen at the Temple theater today, in the new Equitable five-part picture, "Passers By." This artistic and charming picture is the work of C. Haddon Chambers, who also wrote the novel and play of the same name.

The story of "Passers By" deals with a young bachelor who lives in solitude and contemplates upon his shattered romance of some years before.

Assuming that the public like to learn about the details in the making of a big picture, the fact that the banquet served in the Morosco production, "The Code of Marcia Gray" was a full course dinner and that the food furnished was prepared by a chef and served immediately will be of interest and will dispel skepticism. The appointments and service were exactly as they would be in a society leaders' home.
